Scholarships • Teacher Training All Supported by You!

PACES, Inc. has been benefiting home educating families since 1989. Their work is funded through tuition, private donations, and a fund raising event each year. PACES provides consultations for home educating families, testing for students, support group speakers, conferences, field trips, educational trips, a one day per week classical program to help parents home educate their children, and on going training for parents who home educate. PACES is known for their advanced training of teachers for the classical program and other participating home educating parents.

For eleven years, this superior Teacher Training and academic planning time has inspired and equipped hundreds of home educating parents. For eleven years, the Annual Sock Hop fundraiser has funded Teacher Training. Our goal is to provide low cost superior training for interested parents, as well as those who work for the PACES organization. Many parents desire a classical education for their children, but they are unable to pay tuition or buy supplies for their family. The proceeds from the Sock Hop fund raiser also benefits families with this financial need. We desire to make a way for every family convicted to home educate their children an opportunity to teach their children at home.

Over 500 people are expected to attend the 11th Annual Sock Hop fundraiser. We are looking for advertisers and table top decoration sponsors. We are also accepting donations to be auctioned at either our Live or Silent Auction.
